

SCHOOL GOVERNOR INTRODUCTION

Andrew Thomas - Co-opted Governor

My name is Andrew Thomas and I am a caretaker at Hollinswood School, and part of the Hollinswood team. I have been a school governor for many years.

Before I retired I spent the last 26 years of my working life supporting children in care, these young people had been through a lot of hard ship in there young life's. I fully believe in every child matters and should be given the best opportunities in life. Which I believe the school provides.

My hobbies are cannoning, walking and rock climbing. Because of this I am a firm believer in outdoor education as I have seen first-hand the benefits it has on the children building confidents in them, and this shows in their school work.
